

Updates from the Journey of Muzz

Day 6

Well today Muzz decided that he needed to visit the toilet BUT there are very few toilets on the banks of the river.

We do have a port-a-potty on the boat but that wasn't good enough for Muzz.

Happily, Gary offered his thunder box & Muzz accepted, not really knowing what he was getting into. Luckily he didn't fall in!!!! We were nearby & took this picture to share:

Trouble is, Muzz didn't dig the hole, didn't set it up, didn't fill in the hole - I guess he is the Admiral after all!!

We are currently camped on the banks of the river marker 1480, so Muzz demanded that everyone get together for a photograph.

Everyone was happy & we began singing 'Rainbow Connection' - or at least what we could remember. Muzz is being held by our chief singer - Lynlee.

This song may well be too old for some of the students but it did evolve from The Muppets, which they may have heard of - a great song with a catchy tune.....

Here we are - well at least 5 of the 6 boats. One needed to head off early for motor repairs.

Here's hoping you have a great day at school today.
